M'DEARMON'S BODY FOUND IN RIVER NEAR CALEDONIA

Floater, Answering Description, Buried There Hastily Yesterday.

Friends Go Down to Inspect Evidences of Identity.

BURIAL WILL BE AT TRENTON

Learning from the Cairo Bulletin that a body had been found Tuesday and buried at Caledonia, a town about 18 miles this side of Cairo, Mr. Harry Meyer secured the launch Cutaway II this morning at 10 o'clock and went down to that place to see whether it could be the body of Mr. J. Hicks McDearmon, who was drowned in the river here Sunday. With Mr. Meyer went Messrs. J. B. and M. A. McDearmon, uncle and brother, respectively, of the drowned man, Mr. J. P. Boulware, who was with him when the accident occurred, and Mr. Clarence McThord.

From the description in the paper, the party had no doubt about the identity of the body found in the river. Only yesterday a searching party from this city went within five miles of Caledonia. While preparations were being made this morning early to again move the barge in the foot of Tennessee island, where the drowning occurred, in the hope of dislodging the body, the Dick Fowler steamed over to the island and informed them of the body found in the river at Caledonia.

The party took a casket in the launch, and as the body is decomposed it will be shipped to Cairo and then to its home in Trenton, Tenn., for burial. In view of the fact that the coroner will have to be seen and secure permission to remove the body it is probable that the Paducah party will not return until tomorrow. Though the current is not swift in the river now, it is thought that McDearmon could have floated to Caledonia by Tuesday.

After the party had left Chief Collins received a letter from Ed H. Hines, of Olmstead, Ill., stating that the body of an unknown man had been found. A description was given and also the number of a key to a Yale lock to the Meyer home. This number identified the body without a doubt, but the general description also compared. A gold watch, key ring with seven keys, and some silver money was found in his clothes. It is supposed that the finders were ignorant of the drowning of a telegram would have been sent as the body was found Tuesday and an inquest held yesterday. The letter was mailed yesterday and a copy was mailed to police of various cities up the river.

The "Red Special"

Chicago, Aug. 20.—The Socialist national committee has announced the itinerary of the "Red Special" train on which Debs and Hanford, the nominee for vice president and other speakers will make the most sensational campaign party ever attempted. The Chicago rally will be August 31. Then they will tour to the Pacific coast, returning September 25 for the eastern trip, visiting the larger cities until October 23, then they will visit the southern states.

Bomb in 5-Cent Theater

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 20.—Two men were killed, one seriously, and several scores of persons were thrown into a panic in a 5-cent theater, 681 West Madison street when a tank of gas, employed in the operation of a moving-picture machine, exploded and set fire to the building. Many women and children were in the audience, and in the rush for the exits following the explosion several were thrown to the floor and trampled upon. Matthias Huesh, operator of the picture machine, was so severely burned that it is believed he will die.

COW KILLED IN QUEER MANNER

Falls Into Ditch, Dams Up Stream and Is Drowned.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Aug. 20.—John Marshall, living near Honey Grove, in the eastern part of the county, lost a fine cow recently under circumstances very much out of the ordinary.

The cow fell into a ditch in such a manner that she was unable to extricate herself. The cow's body filled the ditch so completely that a small stream of water, which was merely sufficient to trickle along the channel, was dammed and began to rise. The little stream was assisted by a rain and the water rose until it reached the cow's head, and she was drowned.

INVESTIGATES FIRE.

Fire Chief Wood has been unable to solve the origin of the fire in the home of R. P. Farmer, 421 Monroe street, last Tuesday night. Mr. Farmer went to Murray at 6 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and left an electric light on, but when the fire was discovered the lights were turned off. The blaze started in two closets in different parts of the house. Fire Chief Wood is making an investigation, but has been sick today.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at the home by the Rev. T. J. Owen, pastor of the Gothic Avenue Methodist church. The burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery. The following is from a Newark, O., paper:

"Four weeks ago Mr. Overstreet became afflicted with brain trouble, which brought on paralysis and caused his death. He was a widower and the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Overstreet, of Paducah, Ky."

"He leaves to mourn their loss besides his parents, two sons, J. B. aged 12, and George, aged 9; two brothers, J. T. Overstreet, of this city; Memphis Overstreet, of Kentucky, and one sister, Mrs. Ruby Rudolph, also of Kentucky. The remains will be taken to his home at 1:50 o'clock Wednesday for burial."

Here's Real Good News.

New York, Aug. 20.—Miss Isabelle Holland and Mrs. Mary S. Moore, milliners of Boston, were returning passengers on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Both passengers declared that the large brimmed hats had disappeared in Paris, and that next season the popular hat would be exceedingly small. Miss Moore said the new hat was to the merry widow type as a pin head was to an umbrella.

COAL MINERS TO QUIT.

COTTON KING IS SQUEEZED WHEN BEARS GO FOR HIM

New York, Aug. 20.—Bear operators made a raid on the cotton corner of J. I. Livermore, and it is reported the young "Cotton King" is badly squeezed. In the attack on October cotton 20,000 bales were thrown on the market in a few minutes. Prices fell rapidly. Livermore is supposed to hold 300,000 bales, indicating a loss of $200,000.

BEST CARD EVER OFFERED WILL BE FRIDAY'S EVENTS

Matinee Club Races at Edgewood Track Present Some Fast Stock.

Some Dupe on Horses Entered and Principal Contests.

STUGGLES FOR THE RECORD

The card arranged for Friday's races is one of the best the Matinee club has ever offered. The harness race of the day will be the class "A," in which Sarah McLure and Sam Patch will again take up the battle of last Friday, when Sam took the first and third heats of one of the hardest fought races ever seen on the local track.

King Onward and Billy Buck will start in this race and it will be the first appearance of the King in a matinee. Mr. Thompson says his peerless trotter is ready for the race of his life and Billy Buck's many local admirers will welcome him to the home track.

Among the runners the match race between Wes Flower's Waddle Lee Dickerson & Harris' B. M. Rebo is attracting much attention. This race was carried for last Friday but Waddle was hung up on a sand bar above Carrville on the Ohio river. They are running for a heavy side bet and as the colts are very evenly matched the winner is hard to pick. Two good riders have been secured for the race and a close contest from wire to wire is expected. Both owners claim to have the winner.

The three-quarter dash will have two entries from Mr. J. Small's stable, and as Wyoming is one of the fastest sprinters in this section, track records will probably be broken.

Through an oversight Dickerson & Harris' fast runner Roll Shied was omitted from the three-quarter dash. This horse won the five-eighths dash last Friday and the owner of Four Piece, who was second, thinks his horse can trim him at the longer distance.

Paducah Negro Shot.

One of the injured in the Springfield riot was Robert Oakley, a farmer Paducah negro. Oakley had a barber shop in Paducah on Kentucky avenue for many years, but nine years ago went to Springfield. Oakley was one of the first targets when the firing began. It is said that he has only a slender chance to recover.

Quiet at Springfield

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 20.—Only son troops remain but the city is quiet and no further trouble is feared. Many negroes are deserting the town fearing they lack protection. It is likely the present force will see until the grand jury completes its work. The first indictments are expected tonight.

Must Connect With Sewer

Health officer Dr. H. P. Slight, announced today that the sanitary inspector would begin next Monday to go over the entire sewer district No. 1, to see whether the citizens notified to connect with the sewer, had made any move toward doing so, and in those cases where no visible steps have been taken to connect, warrants will be issued summarily. To avoid prosecution in the police court the citizens notified to connect must have substantial evidence that they have done so or have made arrangements to do so.

WEATHER.

Fair and cooler tonight. Fair Friday with moderate temperature. Highest temperature yesterday, 80; lowest today, 67.

No Call Made For Hall

COUNTY ATTORNEY KRONE SAYS HE CAN GET WITNESS WHENEVER HE IS WANTED

Trigg County Night Riders Are Driving People Out of County in Order to Get Their Property.

Eddyville, Ky., Aug. 20. (Special.)—Someone, having access to the Louisville wires is endeavoring to injure County Attorney Krone, through some Louisville paper, and to make it appear that the grand jury is seeking night rider evidence. It is reported that when Mr. Krone was requested to produce Sanford Hall he told the commonwealth's attorney that he does not know where Sanford Hall is. Mr. Krone said that statement is an absolute falsehood, and he does know where Sanford Hall is, but neither the grand jury nor the commonwealth's attorney has ever asked him to produce Sanford Hall. Mr. Krone said he offered his assistance to the grand jury and he was utterly ignored, although he has been within calling distance of the grand jury ever since it convened. He is ready now to produce a great deal of evidence against night riders whenever he is called upon.

It is probable that John O'Brien, who escaped from the penitentiary and confessed, will be indicted for his escape.

Formers May Organize.

Louisville, Aug. 20. (Special.)—Adjutant General Johnston left last night for Russellville and other points in the dark belt to investigate the situation. There is talk of forming an organization of farmers to aid in getting down night riders.

Major Bassett inspected conditions at Eddyville today.

A man, who recently returned from a business trip into Trigg county, reports that people are being run out of that county by night riders, for no apparent reason other than that their property may be thrown on the market at a sacrifice. Night riders absolutely dictate everything in the community, and even the merchants at Cadiz. It is said, have received instructions as to certain signs they must display. Old people who do not raise tobacco, and have no interest in community affairs, are ordered to leave, and women declare they never secure a whole night's rest. They are nervous and disturbed by every sound.

ROOSEVELT WILL SAIL MARCH 7 ON HIS HUNTING TRIP THROUGH AFRICA

If the plan is adhered to the Celtic he altered for Roosevelt's accommodation by the installation of a gymnasium and shooting gallery.

THIEF LOCKED IN SMOKEHOUSE BY OWNER LAST NIGHT

Grahamville, Ky., Aug. 20. (Special.)—While in the smoke-house of Mrs. Maggie Crawford an unknown thief was locked up last night, but finding the door was barred the purloiner made a strenuous effort and released himself before he was captured. Mrs. Crawford resides at Grahamville, and she and Mrs. Luther Graham and Mrs. John D. Smith, of Paducah, were alone last night. About 10 o'clock Mrs. Crawford remembered she had failed to lock the door to the smoke-house. She looked the door, but when the back porch was reached she heard a struggling in the house. Thinking it was a dog she started back but her guests refused to allow her to return. They went into the house and heard some one trying to break the (Special.)—Representatives of the tobacco associations in Kentucky, Ohio, West Virginia, Tennessee and Indiana were called to order here this morning by President Davenport, of the tobacco department of the Equity, to form a combine of organizations to handle the pooled crop.

Bank Recovers Loss

Attorney Hal Corbett returned last night from Wickliffe, where the case of the Ballard County bank against the Maryland Casualty company was tried. The burglary insurance company demurred at the payment of the loss of the bank from the hold-up in April, but the jury gave the bank the full amount of its loss, $2,300.

ACCUSE HASKELL OF DRAWING TOO MUCH ON COMPANY

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 20.—A receiver was asked for the Indianaola Contracting company, of which Governor Haskell is president. Ohio stockholders are plaintiffs. They claim Haskell drew $15,000 salary the last three years for services really worth $1,500. They charge that the company speculated on investments not provided in the charter and lost heavily. Manager Eaton says the company is solvent. The suit is an attempt to collect fees the plaintiffs demand for services.

chain that held the lock on. Securing a pistol the ladies took their stand on the back porch and realizing that a thief had been caught in the trap the pistol was fired. Aroused by the shot the thief only worked the faster, and succeeded in breaking the lock and escaping. Neighbors were attracted by the shot and made a search but the tracks disappeared in a wheat field. The thief failed to carry away the meat he had selected, as he was frightened.

Miners Try to Blow Up House.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 20.—An attempt was made to blow up the residence of Thomas Dugan, contractor in mine No. 6, of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company at Pratt City. A heavy stick of dynamite was thrown on the front porch. The house was nearly demolished. Two daughters of Dugan, Minerva and Mary, aged 16 and 20 years, were asleep in the front room, directly in front of where the dynamite exploded. They were thrown out into the hall and both rendered unconscious, but not seriously injured.

MRS. HAINS SEEKS RECONCILIATION WITH HER HUSBAND

New York, Aug. 20.—The report that Mrs. Hains is seeking reconciliation with her husband and is willing to testify in his behalf has caused the greatest sensation. McIntyre, Hains' attorney, will welcome the wife's support, but she must support her statements with her confession. McIntyre claims that Mrs. Hains made three verbal statements to different witnesses, acknowledging intimacy with Annie, besides the written document. He says the latter will be the greatest sensation in 25 years in criminal cases. He deplets the wife alone, her husband in the Philippines. She sought the companionship of her husband's friend. The latter taught her to smoke and drink and betrayed her. McIntyre insists Annie inspired Mrs. Hains' charges, which upset Hains' reason, following the domestic troubles.

Mayfield Fingers Come Out.

Mayfield, Ky., Aug. 20. (Special.)—The typographical strike went into effect today and the union printers walked. The Messenger, however, will issue its regular edition. The Monitor got out no paper and the Hoggwallow Kentuckian is tied up.

Dark Tobacco Crop Best in Years.

Clarksville, Tenn., Aug. 20.—The Dark Tobacco Growers' association reports show the present crop of tobacco to be in fine condition. Worms have not yet made their appearance, and it is believed that this will be the best crop raised in years. Owing to the large amount of last year's crop of tobacco that remains unseed and the present large crop in the field, it has been decided to reduce the acreage for the next crop.

MISUNDERSTANDING IS BELIEF OF HIS FRIENDS.

J. M. Dunlap, a prominent contractor, was arrested today on a warrant charging him with obtaining money by false pretenses. The warrant was issued by the grand jury at Wickliffe, and Mr. Dunlap executed a bond of $500. The warrant did not state the circumstances of the case, but it is believed by his friends that it is issued through a misunderstanding.

FORAKER AND TAFT FRIENDLY.

No Trouble of Any Kind Between Us, Forner Says.

New York, Aug. 20.—When Mr. Taft goes to Middlebass Island in Put-in-Bay, Lake Erie, at the end of the month to meet Republican leaders of Ohio to talk over the situation in the Buckeye State, Senator Joseph Benson Foraker will not be one of the number. Senator Foraker was in the city on his way from North East Harbor, Me., where he has been summering, on his way to Washington.

"There is no engagement between Mr. Taft and myself to meet at Middlebass Island," he said. "The report probably arose because of an impression which has got abroad that there are some differences between Mr. Taft and myself. I would be glad if you correct that impression by stating that there is no trouble of any kind existing between Mr. Taft and me. I would be pleased to meet Mr. Taft at Middlebass Island if I could do so, but I have already made engagements that will prevent my going there at the time Mr. Taft will make his visit to the club."

ALTON ROAD ORDERS 1,000 CARS

Taken as Indication of Early Revival of Railroad Business.

New York, Aug. 20.—After a meeting of the officials of the Chicago and Alton it was stated that a contract would be placed for new equipment to the value of about $1,500,000. The equipment includes 1,000 steel cars, which are required to handle the Alton's increasing coal tonnage.

Purchasing agents of the company have been here for several days, arranging the details of the order. It is understood that the contract for the construction of the cars will be made with the Standard Steel Car company. Considerable interest was displayed in railroad circles in the Alton's car order, which was taken as an indication of an early revival of the railroad business. There has been no very pronounced improvement in the steel rail situation, but orders placed during the last two weeks are larger than for any similar period for several months.

Four railway companies have contracted for about 60,000 tons of rails, while smaller orders will bring the total up to between 75,000 and 100,000 tons.

PADUCAH OR LOUISVILLE THE CHOICE

Headquarters of the Farmers Union Will be Selected Next Month.

Method of Handling Products in Kentucky.

STOCK YARDS MAY BE HERE

Shall Paducah or Louisville be the headquarters of the Farmers' Union in Kentucky, with the salesrooms, warehouses, stockyards and offices that involves, is a question that State Secretary R. L. Barnett says hinges largely on the attitude Paducah commercial and official interests have toward the movement.

Louisville will be selected, Mr. Barnett intimated, unless some substantial proposition from Paducah to secure the headquarters, like the inducements the city offers other large enterprises to locate here, is made to the union. The directors, who met here yesterday, thought Louisville, on account of its size and greater marketing facilities, would be the best location, though at present it is some distance away from the heart of the organized territory. Still they have not settled on the location and will not until Paducah shows that the headquarters is or is not wanted.

On the second Tuesday in September directors will meet here again, when final arrangements for a great central salesroom will be made. Secretary Barnett said today that the union expects to handle 2,000,000 pounds of tobacco this season. Tobacco was the principal subject discussed in yesterday's meeting and definite plans were perfected whereby each county will handle its own crop. In detail the plan of handling of the Farmers' Union, differs materially from that of Planters' Protective association.

First there will be no general manager of the Farmers' Union. The state board of directors will have supervision over the various county organizations. They have eliminated every office possible, it was stated, to save expenses to the members. Each county is expected to organize a stock company, which will buy or lease a warehouse. At this warehouse the tobacco will be priced and stored, and samples will be sent to Paducah or Louisville, as the one or other place may be chosen for state headquarters.

These stock companies will be similar to the one organized this month in Livingston county. Only union members may own stock. The stock-

STATE BANK

SECRETARY OF STATE BRUNER
WILL CLOSE THEM.

Finds Several Instances Where Case
Applies—All Institutions Separate.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 20.—State banks which have branches must come to time and incorporate separately from the parent bank, with not less than $15,000 capital, or they will be closed by Dr. Ben L. Bruner, secretary of state. Not only will the branch be closed but also the parent bank. Dr. Bruner says he does not intend to have any fooling and the banks which are operating branches, in what Dr. Bruner thinks is violation of the law, will have to make their reports voluntarily. Under a recent opinion from the attorney general, a state bank cannot have a branch and Dr. Bruner is going to force those branch banks to incorporate and make their regular reports to him, as other banks do.

Some ten or a dozen state banks which have branches have been found by Dr. Bruner. He found a new one today. A bank in Owensboro has a branch at Fordsville. No report has ever been made, Dr. Bruner says, to show that the Owensboro bank had a branch at Fordsville and no report has been made by the Fordsville bank which is operated under another name than that of the parent bank. There are several banks like this and Dr. Bruner is hearing of others every day.

EVENING SCHOOL GROWTH BIG.

One of the Important Parts of City's Educational System.

Evening schools have become one of the most important parts of the school system of Chicago, their growth having been very great. In 1881 the attendance at the schools was but 800 pupils, while now it is twenty times as large.

The experiment of evening schools was begun in the winter of 1886, the year in which the first high school was opened in Chicago. The city gave the use of West Market Hall, and the services of the teachers were gratuitous. Most of the pupils were adults and all were from the classes employed during the day. In 1864 the council made the first appropriation for the support of the evening schools.

In 1871 the evening schools were closed owing to the great fire, and were not reopened until 1873. In 1886 the office of supervisor of the evening school was created, while in 1891 the attendance had increased to such an extent that the office of assistant supervisor was created. Until 1891 there was but one evening high school, but now there are eight.

CHANGE IN PROGRAM

"TALKING PICTURE" WILL BE CHANGED TODAY AT THE KENTUCKY.

Amateur Contest Friday Night Promises to Be Crowning Event of the Season.

A complete change in program is the offering at the Kentucky theater this afternoon and evening, the change not only affecting the straight motion picture, illustrated song by Miss Ethel Caisel and special vocal number by Mr. James Harrod, but the Cameraphone, or moving picture that "talks and sings." The program of entertainment to be provided by the "show that talks for itself" is a superb and varied assortment of vaudeville acts including numbers from successful musical comedies.

The Cameraphone has attracted record breaking audiences at every performance, afternoon and evening, the past three days, testing the capacity of the big theater to the limit. Friday night's program includes an amateur contest, several of the entries being amateurs that have never before appeared in Paducah, the acts being new, fresh and entertaining.

The prizes are $5, $3.50 and $2 for the three best, all awards to be made by the audience. The three winners in the contest will appear at the next performance following the event in which they captured honors and the prizes. trial of the American rights of the play. Both Mr. Savage and Mr. Fiske accuse each other of unfairness and today both asserted their intention of maintaining their right to the production.

Mr. Savage gave the play a trial week at Hartford, Conn., announcing that it would be put on at the Garden theater in this city September 28. Mr. Savage's leading man, Edwin Stevens, and the other players were scattered along the Atlantic coast when the manager learned yesterday that Mr. Fiske had stolen a march on him; that George Arliss and a company of players had been rehearsing secretly at Tarrytown, N. Y., and that Mr. Fiske was going to give his first performance in the Belasco theater.

The Savage company was hastily him.

Many May See But It Takes Genius to Realize.

When James Watt saw the steam causing the kettle lid to jump up and down he said "There must be power in that steam that it can lift such a weight."

There was. Millions prior to him had seen the same phenomenon and regarded it as an unexplained mystery.

Recent scientific research has put its finger on the "cause" of Dandruff, Failing Hair, and consequent Baldness, and has unearthed a tiny germ which eats the life from the roots of human hair.

U. S. WARSHIPS NOW AT SYDNEY

Half a Million British Subjects Cheer Fleet.

Cannon Boom Salutes and English and American Flags in Great Profusion in Evidence.

THE USUAL OFFICIAL VISITS.

Sydney, N. S. W., Aug. 20.—The American battleship fleet arrived here about 8 o'clock this morning and was welcomed by probably half a million people assembled on the docks, buildings and headlands surrounding the harbor, while hundreds of crafts of all kinds dotted the waters in the harbor.

In perfect alignment, the flagship Connecticut leading, with Rear Admiral Sperry on the bridge, the warships came out of the harbor, first a little smoke showing and then the hulls tow down in the distance.

Passing in through Sydney heads in double column, at intervals of 400 yards, the ships looked to have a world of speed and power under their glistening sides. The fleet was accompanied by a convoy of steamers and was greeted with a roar of salutes from the forts as it steamed slowly along.

The thousands ashore and afloat added their cheers to swell the noisy welcome and countless British and American flags were flung to the breeze and were still waving long after the anchors had been swung from the sides of the ships.

The American ships boomed forth a salute to the port, and as soon as they were safely moored at their anchorage, official visits were exchanged.

Sydney is enthusiastic over visit of the American battleship fleet and thousands of visitors from the interior already have come to pay homage to the officers and men. During the stay of the warships the whole of the coast line, many miles in length, of the fine harbor is to be brilliantly illuminated each night, the numerous headlands at the expense of the federal and state governments, and the intervening shores by public subscription. In addition the British and other warships in the harbor will be ablaze with light, as well as the merchant steamers, excursion vessels and other craft. There also will be a display of fireworks on a large scale, in which the vessels of the Australian squadron will participate.

The warships are to remain in Sydney ten days. During this time an elaborate program of entertainment will be carried out, beginning with the ceremonial hoisting of Admiral Sperry and his chief officers at Lady Macquarie's chair in the harbor. The chief officers of the fleet are to be the guests of the Earl of Dudley, governor-general-elect, and the Countess of Dudley, and will be entertained at a grand ball in the grounds of the government-house by Lord Northcote, the present governor-general, and Lady Northcote. A magnificent ball is also to be given in the Sydney town hall by the lord mayor and the city corporation, and a large number of dances, dinners and other entertainments have been arranged by the citizens. All the theaters and other places of amusement are to be thrown open free to the visitors, who have also been invited to attend the great sport carnival, in which several thousand public school children will take part.

There are many imitations of DeWitt's Carbolic Witch Hazel Salve but just one original. Sold by all druggists.

LETTER WRITING

Becoming Lost Art in Day of Post Cards.

"The polite art of letter writing is almost lost," said a traveling man in the lobby of the Palmer House last night as he unknowingly turned to a reporter. "It is nothing but post cards until you are post card sick. Then the messages are only about an inch long. Here is my mail." The Knight of the Trip ran through his business letters, and there were three post cards. "Besides the business letters, here are three cards, and the first one has that stereotyped message: 'Get busy,' the second a warning from a friend 'Don't let the night riders get you,' and the last is a card full of optimism from a man in the office with this message, 'Hope you are having a good trip.'"

"Actually I received a message yesterday from a friend who is touring Switzerland, and all he had time to write was 'Having a good time, Hob.' Of course, the picture of the snow capped Alps told me volumes."

and today the young man may be fortunate to receive a post card with a rose-embowered castle against a soft-ton background with the words 'Divine Juliet' in shadowy relief. Well, it is too much for me, and I will go upstairs and dream about home even if I cannot get a good letter from friends."

With this parting the unfortunate disappeared in the elevator bound for his room.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

County Court Clerk.
 The Sun is authorized to announce Hiram Smedley a candidate for reelection to the office of Clerk of the McCracken County Court subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Daily Thought.

The path to success is paved with good intentions that were carried out.

We enquired that Mr. Bryan would wish to take the stump this fall, just as soon as he offered Kern half the white house. But you, Mrs. Bryan, talks him to sleep every night about the arrangement of the house.

No one will dispute with Governor John Johnson, of Minnesota, that in his third campaign it is the office seeking the man, and his friends are not trusting the office on him, either.

Be it resolved, that we leave the Illinois-Annis murder case to the judge and jury. A murder was committed. There could have been no justification, but heat of passion may mitigate the degree of crime.

After the criminal term in Lyon county Circuit Judge Cook and Commonwealth's Attorney Denny Smith have only two more grand juries before which to seek exonerations. A man ought to be able to hold up his head after a vindication like that.

SHERMAN ANSWERS BRYAN.
 Sherman's speech of acceptance was brief. He said:

"Shall the people rule?" is declared by the Democratic platform and candidate to be the overshadowing issue. . . . now under discussion. It is no issue. Surely the people shall rule, surely the people have ruled; surely the people do rule. No party rules. The party, commissioned by the people, is simply the instrument to execute the people's will, and from that party which does not obey their expressed will, or which lacks the wisdom to lead successfully the people will withdraw their commission.

"The overshadowing issue of the campaign really is: Shall the administration of President Roosevelt be approved; shall a party of demonstrated capacity in administrative affairs be continued in power, shall the reins of government be placed in experienced hands, or do the people prefer to trust their destinies to an aggregation of experimental mavericks and theorists, whose only claim to a history is a party name they pilfered."

KENTUCKY'S DUTY.

"Manifest and imperative is the duty of Kentucky in the presidential election of 1908. Apathy and poor organization lost the state to Roosevelt in 1904. Both elements are this year, fortunately, missing. In the Hon. Frank M. Fisher as generalissimo, the party has a guide of ability, breadth, force and foresight close to the national campaign leader, Hon. Frank B. Hatcher, the ablest political manager of this generation," says the Whitley Republican.

"The Hon. Robert H. Winn, campaign chairman, is broad minded apright and clean, resolved to give every Republican due consideration. No corrupt deals will be made with Democratic bosses. No ostracism will be visited on Republicans, for refusing to take party law from election thieves and ballot stuffers, calling themselves Republicans. Mr. Winn is a Republican statesman with a future.

"That future, builded on the foundation of honesty and fair dealing, is in the hands of Kentuckians, especially those of the mountains, immovably secure.

"A Republican victory this fall means much to this state, the fourth among the commonwealths of America as a revenue producer. We may, on the achievement of such a triumph, demand representation in the first Taft cabinet. We have the material. What better timber for postmaster general or for secretary of the interior than Frank M. Fisher, of Paducah?"

"Republicans of Whitley, we appeal to you to come out in your thousands to vote for Taft, Sherman and the 'Old Kentucky Home.'"

Mr. Chaffin is in a position to conduct a most dignified canvass for the presidency. No schemes of campaign finance need trouble his moments of solitude; no departure from principle need cause him apprehension; no plans for the accommodation of the vice-president's family in the white house need bother him at night. There are many occupations in life more trying than being the prohibitionist candidate for president.

RETURN OF REASON.

That suggestion from Lyon county that Governor Wilson withdraw the troops and grant amnesty to the original night riders that they might assist him in bringing about a reign of law and order is one of those expressions that sound all right, but don't mean anything. Governor Wilson is confronted with anarchy. Certain men have agreed to tell what they know of the outrages in the terrorized district on condition that they be given protection, both while they are testifying and while the danger continues. For that purpose he sent soldiers into the Black Patch, and as confidence in the ability of the state to protect witnesses grows, evidence accumulates. It is not, so much for the purpose of defying the soldiers, as of inspiring terror in the hearts of repentant night riders, that outbreaks frequently occur in isolated sections of counties under military patrol.

The request that soldiers be withdrawn, so that the citizens may hold themselves responsible for the maintenance of good order, casts suspicion on the motives of those who make it. They could lend a helping hand to the state under promise of pardon just as well with the soldiers present as absent.

Let all such speculation be idle, for one good reason: Who is going to the governor with the proposal that "members of the original night rider organization themselves will, sternly suppress the more violent members?" The governor cannot act on mere rumor. The proposal must come from some authoritative source. He cannot offer general amnesty to all "original night riders." There are desperate characters in the band, as the story from Eddyville admits, and to condone their offenses would amount to a license for them to commit more crimes. The governor is granting pardons to those who confess and aid the state. That is all he can do. He cannot break his pledge with those who have relied on his promise, confessed their guilt and "turned state's evidence." Should he withdraw his soldiers, the night riders would immediately murder every witness for the state, and "those original night riders," seeing all danger of exposure and damages removed, probably would consider themselves in honor bound to protect their fellow incendiaries and abusers of women.

These men, reared in Christian homes, educated in public schools, taught from infancy that the way of the transgressor is hard, and knowing the law and the character of their associates, deliberately took a blood oath at clandestine meetings, and rode forth armed and masked in the night time to attack sleeping citizens, burn their property and provoke retaliation. They schooled themselves in the defenses of our criminal procedure under the direction of skilled lawyers, they inflated county officials, and in the Third judicial circuit have regarded themselves as immune from punishment.

But the federal court was out of the reach of their political manipulations, and federal juries beyond the away of their terror inspiring oath. The "night rider alibi" became a thing for ridicule, and impeachment by their sworn allies of no avail. The "original night riders" learned that they could be mulcted in damages, and though they could destroy other men's property without a twinge of conscience, the loss of their own wealth turned their thoughts toward the pleasant paths of peace and rectitude.

They found, too, that, though their juries might indict witnesses who exposed them, and the local courts might convict, the governor could pardon and his soldiers could protect. They are chagrined. The lying tongues of lawyer-politicians in the Black Patch have been rebuked. A reaction is evidenced by the weak plea of the "original night riders" for the withdrawal of troops; and just as soon as right and justice come into their own, in the Third judicial district, the smoke of burning barns in the Black Patch will clear away, the bloody stripes on the backs of American citizens will heal and women and children will sleep on top of their beds instead of under them, no longer in fear of the reckless shots from the white savages behind the black masks.

If the "original night riders" wish to re-establish the reign of the law, let them go to the governor and say so. He has been very lenient toward those who repent.

The Port of Missing Men.

The word passed swiftly through the great house, and through the open windows the servants were heard crying loudly for Baron von Marhof's carriage in the court below.

"The king is dead. Long live the king!" murmured Shirley.
 "Long live the king!" repeated Chauvenet and Mrs. Sanderson in unison. And then Armitage, as though mastering a phrase they were teaching him, raised his head and said, with an unctuous that surprised them: "Long live the emperor and king! God save Austria!"

Then he turned to Shirley with a smile.
 "It is very pleasant to see you on your own ground. I hope your family are well."

"Thank you; yes. My father and mother are here somewhere."
 "And Captain Chalbourne?"

"He's probably sitting up all night to defend Fort Myer from the crafts and assaults of the enemy. I hope you will come to see us, Mr. Armitage."

"Thank you. You are very kind," he said gravely. "I shall certainly give myself the pleasure very soon."

As Shirley passed on with Chauvenet, Mrs. Sanderson launched upon the girl's praises, but she found him suddenly preoccupied.

"The girl has gone to your head. Why didn't you tell me you knew the Chalbornes?"

"I don't remember that you gave me a chance, but I'll say now that I intend to know them better."

She bade him take her to the drawing room. As they went down through the house they found that the announcement of the Emperor Johann Wilhelm's death had cast a pall upon the company. All the members of the diplomatic corps had withdrawn at once as a mark of respect and sympathy for Baron von Marhof, and at midnight the ballroom held all of the company that remained. Armitage had not sought Shirley again. He found a room that had been set apart for smokers, threw himself into a chair, lighted a cigar and stared at a picture that had no interest for him whatever. He put down his cigar after a few whiffs, and his hand went to the pocket in which he had usually carried his cigarette case.

The ambassador grew very white.

"Ah, Mr. Armitage, may I offer you a cigarette?"

He turned to find Chauvenet close at his side. He had not heard the man enter, but Chauvenet had been in his thoughts, and he started slightly at finding him so near. Chauvenet held in his white glove a hand a gold cigarette case, which he opened with a deliberate care that displayed its contents. The smooth golden surface gleamed in the light, the helmet in blue and the white falcon flashed in Armitage's eyes. The smiling was clearly by intention, and a slight smile played about Chauvenet's lips in the enjoyment of the situation. Armitage smiled up at him in unadvised acknowledgment of his courtesy and rose.

"You are very considerate, monsieur. I was just at the moment regretting our distinguished host's oversight in providing cigars alone. Allow me!"

He bent forward, took the outstretched open case into his own hands, removed a cigarette, snapped the case shut and thrust it into his trousers pocket all, as it seemed, at a single stroke.

"My dear sir," began Chauvenet, white with rage.

"My dear M. Chauvenet," said Armitage, striking a match. "I am indebted to you for returning a trinket that I value highly."

The flame crept half the length of the stick while they regarded each other. Then Armitage raised it to his lip, his cigarette lifted his head and blew a cloud of smoke.

"Are you able to prove your property, Mr. Armitage?" demanded Chauvenet furiously.

"My dear sir, they have a saying in this country that possession is nine points of the law. You had it now! I have it—wherefore it must be mine!"

Chauvenet's rigid figure suddenly relaxed. He leaned against a chair with a return of his habitual nonchalant air and waved his hand carelessly.

"Between gentlemen—so amill a water?"

"To be sure, the nicest trifle," laughed Armitage with entire good humor. "And where a gentleman has the predatory habits of a burglar and housebreaker?"

"Then lesser affairs, such as picking up trinkets?"

He turned to find Chauvenet close at his side.

"Come naturally, quite so!" And Chauvenet twisted his mustache with an air of immense satisfaction.

"That the genial art of assassination—there's a business that requires a calculating hand, my dear M. Chauvenet."

Chauvenet's hand went again to his lip.

"To be sure!" he ejaculated, with zest.

"But alone—alone one can do little. For larger operations one requires, I should say, courageous associates. Now, in my affairs, would you believe me, I am obliged to manage quite alone."

"How melancholy!" exclaimed Chauvenet.

"It is, indeed, very sad!" and Armitage sighed, tossed his cigarette into the smoldering grate and bade Chauvenet a ceremonious good night.

"Ah, we shall meet again, I dare say!"

"The thought does credit to a generous nature," responded Armitage and passed out into the house.

PADUCAH OR LOUISVILLE

holders will elect directors, and these directors will be subject to supervision by the state board of directors. Some competent tobacco man will be selected state salesman, and only tobacco in first-class condition will be accepted by the warehouses. The state directors decided yesterday to accept tobacco from farmers outside of the Farmers' Union if they desire to sell their crops through its system.

If possible the Farmers' Union will try to sell direct to the manufacturers. They want to eliminate the brokers entirely, and while they may not succeed this season in their plan of dealing directly with the manufacturer, they expect ultimately to do so. It was this idea that made some of the directors think Louisville would be best for state headquarters.

Will Visit Locals.

President Robert Johnson and Chairman John Grady, of the board of directors, will visit each organized county this month and get them organized into stock companies to handle the tobacco crop. As yet only plans for handling the tobacco of the members, have been laid, but all products of the farm will be handled along the same lines sooner or later. R. E. Foster, of Livingston county, is the state business agent who will devote his time to stock. In Livingston county the union members profess to be much delighted with the plan of selling their stock through him and not to itinerant buyers.

Secretary Barnett thinks each county union will organize a stock yards in the near future. He also favors a central stockyard at Paducah, or some other point, where they can get inducements to locate.

The tobacco warehouses for McCracken county probably will be located at Keokuk with a branch in this city. If a site for a stockyard should be donated by the city, or some other substantial help be offered, Paducah stands a leading chance of securing the industry.

Secretary Barnett, Mrs. Barnett and Mr. Barnett's secretary, Miss Lillian Wilson, will leave Monday for Texas to attend the national convention of the Farmers' Union.

TOO SLOW

JOHN ALLEN, COLORED, REQUIRED 24 HOURS' NOTICE.

He Got 24 Days Instead, Because He Was Lazy and Out of Money.

Amusement for the police court "Fans" was furnished this morning by John Allen, colored, who showed his natural aversion for work unless money in large chunks was paid, and the work was easy. Allen was arrested this morning at Third and Clark streets by Patrolman Casper Jones. He was standing on the corner looking at the side windows, and as his actions were suspicious Patrolman Jones walked him to the police station and entered a charge of loitering against him.

When placed on the stand Allen had a weak voice, and the audience had to strain ears to catch his words. He admitted working in Chicago and receiving $1.50; but then he started south and avoided Springfield. Cairo was reached, and John said good people lived there, as he received board and lodging free. Having no desire to try Kentucky hospitality he came to Paducah, but the hospitality cost him his $1.50, and when found this morning he was "broke."

He made a plea of a fruitless journey for work and Judge Cross remanded him to the jail for 24 hours. Many weeds that need cutting. A fine of $20 and costs was assessed, and immediately John found his voice and wanted to get out of the city. He usually half an hour is sufficient time for hobsos to clear a city, but John wanted until tomorrow morning. Instead John will have 24 days to be a boarder of Jailer Brown.

COMPLETE CANAL IN FIVE YEARS MORE.
Opinion of Col. Goethals, Engineer in Charge.
Washington, Aug. 20.—That the Panama canal can be completed within five years, and at much less cost to the government than has been generally supposed, is the information which Col. Goethals, engineer in charge of the work, is expected to bring Secretary of War Wright from the isthmus next month.
Col. Goethals contemplates a trip to this country in September for the purpose of conferring with Secretary Wright on canal zone matters. One of the subjects of discussion will be the estimates for the next year, to be submitted to congress at the coming session.
While here Col. Goethals will make a trip to Oyster Bay to discuss the situation with the President. He will return to Panama before the various congressional committees arrive there early in November to inspect the work.
Col. Goethals expects to make another trip to Washington during the winter, while congress is in session.

FOOT RACE FOR GIRL AS PRIZE.
Sultor to Run Against Father to Win Consent to Court Daughter.

Pittsburg, Aug. 20.—William R. Klein, aged 40 years, of Allegheny, will run a foot race next Saturday with W. J. Letas to see whether or not he will continue paying attentions to Letas' 18-year-old daughter, Marie. If Klein loses the 200-yard race he agrees to retire as a sultor, and if he wins Letas agrees to withdraw all objections.

Letas and Klein are about the same age. When Klein began to court Marie her father warned him to keep away. Letas told Klein he was too old for Marie. Klein answered that he was as good a man as Letas and to prove it would run him a foot race. If he did not win he would not ask to court Marie further. Letas agreed.

Marie is grooming Klein for the race and wants him to win.

BOND QUESTION

IS BEING CONSIDERED BY ATTORNEYS FOR SCHOOL BOARD.

If They May Be Legally Issued an Election May Be Called November 3.

As soon as City Solicitor Campbell and Attorney E. H. Puryear determine whether or not school bonds may be issued to liquidate the floating debt already incurred for building school houses, the school trustees and members of the finance committee of the general council will meet again with Mayor Smith and Health Officer Dr. Sights to consider the sanitary improvements of the Lee and Lincoln schools.

City Solicitor Campbell thinks bonds may be issued only for the construction of buildings in contemplation. The school board desires to use some of the bond money to pay off an existing debt created by building. If it is decided that bonds may be issued for that purpose the election will be called. Otherwise it is likely that the general council will appropriate money for the sanitary improvements. While the city and school board are distinct corporate entities, the same people have to foot all the bills for both, so the immediate source of the money for the improvements is not important in the long run.

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

No old sore can heal until the cause which produces it has been removed. External applications of salves, washes, lotions, etc., may reduce the inflammation and assist in keeping the place clean, but cannot cure the trouble because they do not reach its source. Old sores exist because the blood is infected with impurities and poisons which are constantly being discharged into the place. The nerves, tissues and fibres of the flesh are kept in a state of irritation and disease by being daily fed with the germ-laden matter through the circulation, making it impossible for the sore to heal. S. S. S. cures chronic sores by its purifying action on the blood. It goes down into the circulation, and removes the poison-producing germs, impurities and morbid matters which are responsible for the failure of the place to heal. S. S. S. makes the blood pure, fresh and healthy; then as new, rich blood is carried to the spot the healing process begins, all discharge ceases, the inflammation leaves, new tissue begins to form, the place fills in with firm, healthy flesh, and soon the sore is permanently cured. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, the safest and best blood purifier for young or old. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

PRODUCTIVITY OF WOOD.

Immense Profits Now Derived From Government Sales of Timber.

The receipts from sales of timber were in 1904, $58,000, and in 1907, $687,000. No other department of the government can show results like these. Our $160,000,000 for pensions is a debt of gratitude to the men who fought to save the union and those dependent upon them, but $200,000,000 a year for the army and navy are for the public defense in case of war. Our hundreds of thousands for the diplomatic and consular service are for peace and commerce. We spend $80,000,000 nearly every year for rivers and harbors, and $10,000,000 of that is thrown away because the streams are filled up again from the floods following the deforestation of the lands. But here is a bureau which preserves the streams for navigation and irrigation, preserves the mountain sides and the valleys with their productive possibilities for the farmer, preserves the timber for the man, food uses which are the necessities of the American people, and keeps down the price of the lumber so that it will remain within the economical reach of our citizens. At the same time it is carried on with such skill, efficiency and integrity that, while thus preserving and enriching the nation, its administration is without cost to the government, but, on the contrary, an annual profit is paid into the treasury.—Lester's Weekly.

EXCELLENT CORN ON CITY PROPERTY

Is Raised and Crop Will Approximate 700 Bushels.

Board of Public Works Views Some Municipal Properties—Members Pleased.

THE FIRST STREET PAVEMENT

City Mayor Ed Miller showed to the board of public works yesterday afternoon some ears of corn grown on city property at the end of North Sixth street, which were as fine and large as that body ever saw. At the beginning of the season Mr. Katterjohn, who was skeptical of municipal farming, offered $1 a bushel for all the corn the street inspector would raise. The crop will run perhaps to 700 bushels and Mr. Katterjohn was glad that he had no written contract to carry out his promise. Corn has been selling as high as 90 cents a bushel in Paducah this summer and when the new crop comes in will be ample justification for its utility.

Still complying with Mayor James P. Smith's desire to cut down expenses to avoid a deficit at the end of the year, Street Inspector E. B. Hitt made a report for the first half of August that shows a decrease of $233.86, compared with the same period of 1907.

City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., informed the board that the council would have jurisdiction in the controversy with Contractor E. C. Terrell over the maintenance of streets he built, so Mr. Terrell was referred to the council.

Must Clean Streets.
Dr. H. P. Shirts, city health officer, asked the board to lend its endorsement to his plans for keeping the city clean, by having the street inspector work faster on cleaning gutters. He stated that five deaths this month from typhoid fever made this imperative. The board ordered the changing worked as much as possible on the gutters but is not financially prepared to add to the paid force.

An old water main on Harrison street between Eleventh and Twelfth streets had burst, keeping that block wet. Property owners and the water company so far have refused to act and the board ordered the street inspector to abate the nuisance.

S. R. Eilman, who bought out Levi's store, 317 Broadway, applied for permission to erect an electric sign 60 ft. high. Electric Inspector W. J. MacPherson was instructed to investigate the application and report to the board this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Officers of the Illinois Central railroad think they can arrange an agreement with First street property owners, whereby the half of the street occupied by its tracks may be planked over, and not paved like the other half, and so ordered constituted by the council. When such an agreement is made, the board will recommend that it be accepted and that the ordinance, calling for paving the street between the tracks and allowing vehicles to use the whole street, be repealed.

High grades of the Illinois Central railroad at Jefferson street and Broadway were ordered reduced, and low grades of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway at Norton street were ordered raised.

After the meeting yesterday, the board went to Third and Tennessee streets to investigate a complaint that the sidewalk was too low, and to the gravel pit below Riverside hospital to investigate the feasibility of draining it. President Rudy and Mr. E. W. Katterjohn attended the meeting.

CZARINA ILL

MUCH ANXIETY AT RUSSIAN COURT.

The Empress Suffers Much From Hysteria and Is Mentally Depressed.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 20.—The health of the empress is again arousing anxiety at the Russian court. She appeared to be greatly benefited by the cruise in the Finnish archipelago, but since her return there has been a recurrence of hysteria, general weakness, preventing her from walking and sometimes even from standing. It is said also that she is mentally depressed.

The empress was unable to attend the dinner and reception given in honor of Emperor Francis Joseph's birthday by Emperor Nicholas at the Imperial pavilion at Kransoye-See, where the guard maneuvers are being held.

The anniversary of the birthday of the Austrian emperor was celebrated impressively in St. Petersburg, where Francis Joseph is deservedly popular because of his age and the friendship he has shown to Russia. Mass at the Austrian embassy was attended by M. Jewolsky, the foreign minister, and other ministers and diplomats. Emperor Nicholas sent a personal message of refection to the emperor at Vienna.

New Color Photography.
The hitherto impractical method of color photography has at last been overcome by a French firm of Lyons, who have been successful in discovering a method by which even the amateur can prove the mode of procedure for himself.

The treatment of the new color photography distinguishes itself especially by the simple way in which the photograph is taken. The plate is evenly covered with a layer of colored corn starch—blue, green and red—and behind this filter on a further isolated layer is placed an emulsion which is sensitive for all colors. For the actual taking of a photograph a yellow filter is necessary, which has the property of equalizing the very bright colors with those of a paler one. In taking a photograph the light penetrates the glass of the plate and color filter and then strikes the light sensitive emulsion.

The development process is not very difficult in itself, the chief thing being extremely careful work with the developers. The plates are developed for two minutes with a specific developer in a dark room. The plates are then washed and put into another bath, but then they may be worked on in full daylight. In the bath the negative will be turned into a diapositive by chemical action, and in no order to make the colors clearer and to strengthen the outlines of the photograph it is necessary to use yet another developer which will act as a strengthener. With progressive work the colors increase in beauty.

SERVES NOTICE

WOODFORD COUNTY FARMER DEFIES NIGHT RIDERS.

Says He Will Protect Crop With Shot and Death—Had Barn Burned and Is Apprehensive.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 20.—One of the few men who have dared to defy the night riders and who are growing crops of burley tobacco this year, was in Frankfort to report to the adjutant general in the situation. The man is George Graddy, whose barn was burned by night riders on a raid in Woodford county. Mr. Graddy has caused it to be known that it will be dangerous for any man to go upon his farm without being accompanied by either Mr. Graddy or one of his men. Mr. Graddy has employed a number of hands to work his tobacco, as he has a large crop, and all of the men are armed and prepared to resist. Mr. Graddy says that he intends to market his tobacco and he will not permit any interference. The tobacco is now almost ready to be cut and some of it will be cut this week and put in the barn.

Threats of Night Riders.
Threats of what will be done by the night riders are already being circulated through the Burley district and it even has been announced that a demonstration in force will be made by the night riders. It is reported that a body of 500 will start on a march through the Burley district and will wipe out all the tobacco which is found, applying the torch to such barns as contain tobacco.

Adjutant General Johnston says he does not believe that any such demonstration will be made and he thinks that the rumors will end in talk. Those men who have grown tobacco, however, are not taking that view of it and are preparing themselves to fight. In Madison county, where there is a large crop of burley, those who did not get into the pool are preparing to fight for their crops and will not submit to annoyance or violence.

To Protect Property.
In the next twenty days most of the tobacco which has been grown will be cut and put into the barns and then the second phase of the tobacco fight in the Burley district will become alive. The first stage was when the tobacco was planted in the beds. It was then that plant beds were scraped and warning notices sent. After the tobacco had been planted it could not be injured, but after the crops are in the barns fire will be used and many barns may be burned. General Johnston is preparing to do what he can to protect property and the soldiers will be used as long as they are needed.
